

JUPITER SEXTILE NATAL MC

The transit of Jupiter to Natal MC is one of the great transits we look forward to in life. Transiting Jupiter sextile Natal MC (Midheaven) provides opportunities for recognition, achievement and potential success in anything that is connected to your career. Your goals also have the potential to reach higher heights now. The path ahead seems clearer (unless Neptune is connected by a poor aspect to this placement as Neptune can blur our vision). You could now move forward as prior to this either the potential was gathering speed or it was not in sight at all).

On a deeper level, because you now feel more generous and luckier, you have the opportunity to find greater meaning to life. If you are of a spiritual mindset, now is the time to advance this focus. Spiritual practices are often enhanced as Jupiter meets up with the MC, and goals which have been part of the process leading up to this time now can move forward.

All in all, Jupiter sextile the Midheaven is a prosperous and achievement-oriented aspect, which requires effort on your behalf. If we sit back and do nothing with this very beneficial configuration, the likelihood of advancement is diminished.

For those with their own business, you may find opportunities to enhance your professional goals. You may find that you are getting recognition for your efforts from clients, and they may be letting others know that your business is worth their attention. Your business may grow, or you may find opportunities at this time for expansion. Jupiter often makes things run more smoothly and goals that we set for ourselves can be easier to reach.

Transiting Jupiter sextile Natal MC is a great time for advancement in career-oriented ways. The potential for your status to improve and to gain recognition is enhanced. Use this energy appropriately. The energy is in your hands.
