

JUPITER SQUARE NATAL MARS

Jupiter in transit is always a good energy. The most challenging position it will make is when it is in difficult aspect to Saturn.

Although the Square aspect often suggests some challenge at hand, Jupiter Square Mars may indicate some push and pull in situations and a probability that you may overdo whatever it is you are pushing towards.

Aggression and the thrust to push ahead, full steam without due consideration of what that might encompass can be part of what this aspect is implying. Mars is often about aggressive acts taken, and a strong drive to accomplish. The push for advancement by sheer force is suggested where Mars resides in the natal chart. Transiting Jupiter making the square to this position will enhance this drive to the extreme although there will likely be some obstacles to overcome in the process of this determined effort. Jupiter expands on things, and this is can be extreme when it comes to Jupiter square Natal Mars.

The position of Natal Mars by house and sign together with aspects to it goes one step further into the evaluation of what energies are in place and the areas of life involved. Transiting Jupiter by house and sign will provide you with a suggestion of what area of life is involved with this push and how it will unfold. Jupiter enhances the house it is transiting through and builds on whatever that house represents.

“Overdoing” is likely the most probable energy associated with Jupiter Square Natal Mars or perhaps believing that you will succeed without engaging reliable and realistic plans. This can be particularly true if Neptune is also part of the bigger picture. You might think that what you are doing will have profound effects and that it may lift you to heights unimaginable. These ideas or beliefs will be expanded, and you may be somewhat disappointed by the outcome, although this does not mean that you should not follow through. Take your time and think things through before jumping is highly advised.

Take time to recuperate throughout the process if whatever you are trying to accomplish will take time to finish. The push can be very strong, and you will need to think about your body’s need for some rest and relaxation although you may be very intent on completing the task, especially if there is a deadline. It may not be met on time. However, follow through with your objectives and reach for a height that is attainable.

Go for it.
